The amounts paid into the United States Treasury as conscience money since the year 1861 aggregates $186,459 A Treasury officer says that the payments are made in every conc vable way-by means of registered letters signed with fictitious names, by various forms of commercial paper, and through the priests and pastors of the consciencestricken people. They almost invariably take great pains to conceal their identity, though a few boldly write the circumstances in which they became indebted to the Government. Not long ago a letter accompanied by money was received at the department in which the sender wrote that the money was due the Government as duty on goods that were passed with a lot of others by a customs officer who was bribed by an unscrupulous member of the company. The largest revenue in any year since 1861 through contributions to the conscience fund was in 1868, when the ers. amount was $29,154.11. In 1873 the amount was $23,302.77, in 1878, $12,011.-33, in 1882 only $7,888.49; and it is estimated that it will be still less. This decrease may indicate that there is less opportunity for inclination to steal from the Government, or that men are becom- false position. ing less sensitive to the pricklings of

THE OLD STORY.

MARY F. TUCKER.

Alas, for the head with the crown of gold! The tempter came as he he came of old. Alas, for the heart that was glad and light! Alas for the soul that was pure and white!

Ce nsure who may—condemn who must; It was periect faith—it was utter trust That asked her promise; nor pledge nor sign He was hers—she was his by law divine.

He was lifted up; he was set apart; He filled her thought; he filled her heart; She called him great; she believed him true, As women will, as women do? Oh, to betray such tender trust!
(God will repay, and He is just —
Though wrong and ill she loves him still,
As women do, as women will.

Giving little and taking much, Fickle and false—there are many such— Selfish and cruel—you know the rest— He broke the heart that loved him best.

Judge Hargis' Hand. Louisville Post.

FRANKFORT, September 7.-The Land office situtation remains the same. The Post called on Mr. Cecil this morning and asked him in regard to the alleged combination made by him with Sheldon He said: "There was no combination made by me or any of my friends with Sheldon or any one else. I reached Frankfort the Saturday before the Louisville convention, and on my way met Jos. Norvell, who spoke to me. About twenty min-utes afterwards I received a note from Chief Justice Hargis, asking me to meet him in a room of the Capital Hotel. I went to the room and Judge Hargis introduced himself to me asked me to form a combination with Sheldon. I told him I could not form any combination with Sheldon, and, besides, my friends were not with me and that I would not act unless they were present, but would submit it to them at Louisville. When I reached Louisville I told them about it, and they declined to form any combination. No combination was made by me or my friends with any one.

"While I was sick in bed at Ashland me and read a letter to him from Chief Justice Hargis, the substance of which was that, if I did not appoint Sheldon Norvell to clerkships under me, I would not be recognized as a gentleman, and would be kicked out of society in Frankfort for such a dastardly act. I lay all this muddle on Judge Hargis."

Upon being asked how he felt about siness about it. He came to attend to the business of the office, and would much rather be in the office attending to that business. He has retained Hon.
